"Where It Pays to Deal"

Mrs Robt Hawkins and family of Calgary are visiting at the home Mr George Hawkins this week.

Mrs L Gould and Mrs E Dodd of Innisfail were the guests of Mrs H Dargie on Tuesday last.

Mr S Graham and family left on Friday evening for Victoria where they will reside in future.

Mr C Ridgway and family left on today's train for Calgary where they will make their future home.

Mrs F B Keen was the guest of Mr and Mrs J I Brawster of Calgary for a few days this week.

The White Swan Creamery, under the management of Mr F H Hunter wishes to take this opportunity of thanking those who extended their patronage to the concern during the past season. We trust that the business has been satisfactory to all concerned and hope for the continuation of the same good-will next season from an increased number of patrons.

On Tuesday Nov. 21st the death occurred at the home of Mr Thomas Jones of Red Lodge of his niece Miss Evans, late of Hompon Hall, Shropshire, England. Miss Evans was twenty-six years of age and was an orphan her only relatives being four sisters and two brothers living in England and New Zealand. Death was a result of a very severe attack of scarlet fever contracted it is believed on her passage from The Old Country to Canada some three weeks ago; diphtheria also set in making her case a hopeless one.

The burial services were conducted by Rev McClain Banting of Olds from her late residence at Red Lodge interment being made in the Bowden cemetery

The Churches

Presbyterian Church services will be held next Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. This is a special day and an extra effort is put forth being the Anniversary services.

Rev F D Roxbury M A will be the special preacher at both morning and evening service. The members adherents and friends of the church are specially requested to attend both services.

The Methodists have kindly given up their service on that day.

There will not be any Service in the Methodist Church next Sunday evening on account of the Presbyterian Church Anniversary.

The Methodist Sunday School have decided to hold their Christmas Tree Entertainment on Thursday Dec 21st.

Presbyterian Anniversary Celebrations

The Annual supper and concert of the Presbyterian Church will be held on Friday Dec 1st.

The supper before the concert will be served in the club room on the front street. A good supper is guaranteed and also a specially good programme. The Bowden Brass Band will be in attendance.

The programme will have some vocal and instrumental music from Innisfail.

Any material for the supper brought in by the ladies of Lone Pine or Eagle Creek will be thankfully received on the night of the supper.

Don't forget the date Friday Dec 1st. Come and bring your friends with you and enjoy a good concert and supper.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian Church will have at their concert and supper a sale of work. There are many articles to be sold in the line of babies clothes and other useful articles for house wives. These are going cheap.

In The Swim

A reviewer in the New York Nation illustrates his own comments on a certain new volume of essays by a story that is worth putting into circulation. Three hearers, he says, of the admitted Dr. X, were talking in the vestibule after the sermon. "We must admit," remarked the first, "that the doctor dives deeper into his subject than any other preacher." "Yes," said the second, "and stays under longer." "And comes up drier," added the third.—Western Christian Advocate.

Tommy Still Said "No"

"So you took dinner at Willie Stout's house today?" said Tommy's mother to Tommy.
Tommy nodded.
"I trust," continued the maternal parent, "when it came to the extra helping, you had manners enough to say 'No.'"
"Yes, ma," he murmured; "I said 'No' several times."
Ma regarded him sceptically.
"You did?" she pressed.
"Yes, ma," whispered Tommy.
"Mrs. Stout kept askin' me if I had enough!"

Girls learn to gossip by their mothers warning them against it.

RELIEF IS QUICK; BUT CURE IS SURE

NAPOLEON VAILLONCOURT SPEAKS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

They soon cured his Kidney troubles, and in six months there is no sign of their coming back.

St. Anne des Monts, Gaspé Co., Que. (Special).—"It is six months since I was cured, and I have had no return of my trouble." In these words, Napoleon Vaillancourt, a well known resident of this place, gives evidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills not only give quick relief to sufferers from Kidney Disease, but clean that disease out, root and branch, and cure it permanently.

That Mr. Vaillancourt had Kidney Disease everyone here knows. That he is cured is also established beyond doubt. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it. "My back bothered me, also my heart and my kidneys, and my limbs would cramp," Mr. Vaillancourt states in giving his experience. Now all that is gone and he is a sound healthy man. Do you wonder that he recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills? Dodd's Kidney Pills cure quickly and permanently because they go right to the root of the trouble. They act directly on the Kidneys. They never fail to cure.

SICKLY BABIES CRY HEALTHY BABIES SMILE

Baby's cry indicates distress—his smile health and contentment. The mother may be sure there never was a baby who cried for the fun of it. Baby's disposition is naturally a happy one and it is only distress such as may be brought on by a disordered condition of the stomach or bowels that can change this. So, mothers, to keep your baby happy you must keep him well—Baby's Own Tablets will do this. Concerning them Mrs. Chas. Potvin, Causapoteau, N.S., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have proved an excellent remedy for my baby. I had been using syrups, but they failed to help him and he cried constantly. The Tablets cured him and now he is a fat, healthy child." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Life of Dickens

—BY—
Brine Howard

Before the debating society on Friday afternoon Master Brine Howard read a most interesting paper on Charles Dickens.

He opened his address by outlining the early career of Dickens with its cares and necessities.

Dickens was not what was generally described as a really well-educated man but yet if by a man's education we understand preparation for the work he has to do in life he was indebted to circumstances for an education which it would have been difficult to improve.

Early in life Dickens expressed a desire to be an honored and distinguished man and also commenced to write about what he saw. In this way he laid the foundation of subsequent sketches—Mrs. Pipchin, The Little Marchioness, Bob Sawyer's Lodgings and many other characters and scenes to which we have the same direct traces thus he was pursuing his education in fact as thoroughly as if he had been a pupil in a painters studio. He was serving his apprenticeship.

His first original writing appeared in the Old Magazine for January 1834. Then came Hard Times, Little Dorrit, A Tale of Two Cities, The Uncommercial Traveller besides hundreds of sketches contributed to Household Words which in 1859 was changed into All The Year Round.

Master Howard gave the list of Dickens' works and the year of their publication. He told their chief characteristics of Dickens' writing and related a brief idea of Dickens' lecturing tour to America.

In a fine peroration the speaker spoke of the eminent fame of Dickens who is read to day as keenly as of yore throughout the whole civilized world and the reason of this great popularity.

Master Howard during the reading of the paper had a few good anecdotes and interesting stories of Dickens to relate.

A Winter Scene

—BY—
Harvey Walton

During the time while the earth was slumbering the earth became covered a carpet of soft feathery down. The fire seems to be more cheerful when the weather is so frosty out-side. The floor creaks as you walk to the frosted window. When you step out into the frosty snow it crunches under your feet. The sleigh is at the door. I think I will go for a sleigh ride.

The horses are champing at the bit for they want to get away. At last we get into the sleigh and pull the rug over our knees. The crack of the whip and the jingle of bells in the frosty air make very pleasant music. As we pass a small forest we can hear the 'drumming' of the partridges in the hollow trees. The chickadees are hunting for their breakfast of seeds. The house-look very snug under their heavy burden of snow. In the farm yard the pigeons are cooing. The fences are decorated with snow and ice which look very much like diamond.

The soft feathery carpet of snow seems to be covered with millions of gems as the sun shines on it. These fairy jewels hanging all around look very charming. The scene is very peaceful and quiet and enchanting.

The Debating Society

A bright enthusiastic meeting of the above Society was held on Friday afternoon Nov 17th when Master Brine Howard read a charming paper on Charles Dickens. Master C A Roulston was in the chair.

Before the minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss Helen Hayes and signed by the chair man a lengthy musical programme was gone through.

The principal congratulated Master Howard on his excellent paper. At the close of the meeting the pupils sang "God Save the King" and gave their "School Cry".

Cripler-Graham

On Friday Nov 16th a very pretty wedding was the event at the Presbyterian Manse. The contracting parties were Miss Isabel Graham of Eagle Creek and Mr Joseph Crippler of Prince Albert Sask. Rev W M Chalmers performed the ceremony. The bride looked very tastily dressed in a neat travelling suit of navy blue trimmed in white. She was attended by her sister Miss Elsie Graham who also looked neatly dressed in a suit of navy trimmed in white. The bridegroom was attended by Richard Graham the brother of the bride. The ceremony took place at 12 sharp after which an appetizing dinner prepared by Mrs Chalmers and Miss Worthington was partaken of. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for their future home in Vancouver.

BARKING FOR A LIVING

SOME OF THE LATEST WAYS OF MAKING MONEY.

Selling Time, Acting as a Living Target, Luring Dogs to Bark, Dancing at Academies, Selling Broken Glass—Are a Few of the Queer Trades—How Would You Like to Name Babies For a Livelihood?

There lives at Maidenhead a lady who sells the time for a living. She is the second generation of her family who has had this curious privilege, which was granted originally to her father by the then astronomer Royal in the year 1800, says London Answers.

She has about forty customers in different parts of London. She possesses a most marvelous old chronometer, made by Arnold, in 1800, for the Duke of Sussex, and each Monday morning goes to Greenwich and has her chronometer corrected, and gets an official document stating that it differs from mean time by so many seconds or tenths. Her customers correct their time accordingly.

It is an old saying that half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, and truly some of the methods employed to capture the elusive £. s. d. are strange in the extreme.

The other day a man appeared in court, requested compensation for injuries received in the course of his employment, asked the nature of his work, he said that he got his five shillings a week for standing in a barrel at fair grounds and letting people say bails at his head.

Paris has a man who barks for a living. In Paris there is a tax of eight shillings a year on dogs, and the owners are supposed to declare them themselves. But many get out of this by tipping the collector, or, said the paper, the authorities have found a man who can bark just like a dog, and are giving him six pounds a month to go round at night and bark outside each house, and when a dog replies, to send the name and address to the authorities. The two-legged dog also gets a small commission on each discovery, and does very well.

Speaking of Paris, do you ever hear of a "pamouise" or "pamouise" is a young man, usually of good family, who attends dancing classes, and helps the master by acting as partner to pupils. He gets no salary, but sometimes meets a rich heiress and marries her.

In London is a man who deals in second-hand plate-glass. He buys up broken windows, cut the remains into panes of smaller size, and finds a ready market for his wares.

There is another who patches wall-paper for a living. He is an artist in his way. Cutting a piece of blank paper to fit the damaged spot exactly, he pastes it on very carefully; then, using paints and brushes, colors it to match the ground of the other paper, and afterwards puts in the pattern so delicately that it is next to impossible to find the place where he has been at work.

A defendant in a case recently before the courts received a letter from a man who called himself "Ex-prisoner," offering, in exchange for a small sum of money or some cast-off clothing, to give the other instruction in the best methods of making himself comfortable in prison. "One tip," he wrote, "by means of which you will be able to obtain an improvement on the official dietary, you will consider to be well worth what my advice will cost you."

An advertisement in a London newspaper comes from a woman who may be known as a "professional baby-namer." She proclaims her willingness, for the sum of one shilling, to select a suitable name for the new arrival. She asks to know the child's sex, complexion, color of eyes, and date of birth, and guarantees to satisfy the parents.

To be a radium errand-girl is the ambition of certain young French women. Radium is so precious, and at the same time so dangerous if handled carelessly, that special messengers are employed to carry the little cases containing it from the laboratories to the hospitals. Girls are employed in preference to boys, and are paid as much as fifty shillings a week for their services.

An Essex man makes a living by cleaning incandescent gas-mantles. He travels from house to house, and uses a long soft brush, and then impregnates the mantles with a preservative solution.

In the streets we see many odd methods of gaining a few pence, but perhaps none more original than that of the old blind Austrian who used to haunt Fleet Street, playing tunes on his hands.

Arching his hands till the palms were quite rigid, he struck them smartly together, the contact evolving a note rather like that made by striking a metal bar with a leather-covered hammer. He knew all the operas, but usually confined himself to simple melodies, such as "Home, Sweet Home" and "God Save the King."

An Irish Giant.

The Irish giant Patrick O'Brien, who lived from 1741 to 1808, was eight feet seven inches high and for many years exhibited himself in London and at fairs at Smithfield. His hand from the commencement of the palm to the extremity of the middle finger measured twelve inches, and his shoe was seventeen inches long.

THE BOY'S LAST GUESS.

It Would Be a Miracle to Explain a Miracle.

IN the days when board schools were young a visit was paid to one of those schools by a local dignitary who had theories on the subject of Scripture lessons. He requested the headmaster to pick out a particularly dull boy and let him ask that had a few questions. Whereupon the following dialogue ensued:

"Now, George Jones, what do you understand by a miracle?"

Boy, looking helplessly at visitor, makes no answer.

Visitor (triumphantly, to headmaster)—You see, it's as I've always maintained. Scripture must be explained and illustrated if any comprehension of its meaning is to penetrate this sort of skull. He can't tell me what a miracle is. Now hear me make him understand.

Headmaster (with sarcastic incredulity)—If you do, sir, you'll have wrought a miracle yourself. I haven't a duller boy in the school. If you'd question some of the others—

Visitor—No, no; I'll show you what I can do with this one by using common sense methods. Now, my boy, pay attention to me. You don't know what a miracle is, eh?

Boy confesses it by his silence.

"Now listen to me. Suppose you got up in the middle of the night and saw the sun shining, what should you say it was?"

Boy (promptly)—I should say it was the moon.

Visitor (argumentatively)—But you couldn't, you know, if you saw it was the sun.

Boy (doggedly)—I should see it wasn't.

Visitor (recovering from a disconcerting pause)—But if some one told you that it was the sun?

Boy (emphatically)—I should say he was a liar.

Visitor (angry at such persistent stupidity)—But suppose I told you that it was really the sun. You wouldn't dare to tell me that I was a liar, would you?

Boy (hesitates a moment, then, in accents of conviction)—I should say you was werry drunk.—Tit-Bits.

His Text.

The three-year-old son of a Methodist minister was with his mother at a gathering of ladies. At the proper time he was given a cookie. He ate it in short order and asked for another. The hostess said:

"I'll give you another if you will sing for us."

"Can't sing," was his reply, "but I know something I can say."

"That will do all right," the lady answered, expecting to hear "Twinkle, twinkle, little star," or some other nursery classic.

But the little fellow drew himself up in real Sunday school fashion and said his piece:

"God loveth a cheerful giver."

The lady gave him the cookie, and the whole company seemed to be very cheerful about it.—Harper's Magazine.

Mr. Payson and Mr. Deadbeat met on the street.

"I see you're moved again, Deadbeat," was Payson's greeting. "Where are you living now?"

"Over in the next street," rejoined Deadbeat easily. "I made the change because my new place has a high board fence in front with a sign on that exactly suits me as a warning to all my creditors not to mail me any more bills."

"What's the sign say?"

"Post No Bills,"—Judge.

Paper Cookery.

"Paper cookery" is being popularized in London by a German chef, according to a London newspaper. The flavor of the foods is said to be conserved by the simple process of cooking the food in a paper bag of a special kind. The bag is put inside a gas stove and heated indirectly, the hot air only coming into contact with the paper wrapper. For instance, in cooking a beefsteak in this manner pepper and salt if required would alone be added to the raw meat; before it was placed in the bag and deposited in the oven. After about half an hour's subjecting to the hot air process the steak is said to be done to a turn, while it has produced a rich gravy of its own, which can be poured out of the paper wrapper. Fruit cooked in the same way is said to retain not only its aroma, but its shape.

Waterproofing Solution.

Seeking a waterproofing suitable for military cloaks as well as tents, French army officials have decided that acetate of aluminium is better than rubber, boiled linseed oil, insoluble gelatin, asphalt or any other of the many materials to be had. M. Bailland adds forty parts of water to one part of commercial acetate of aluminium solution, and fabrics are soaked in the mixture for twenty-four hours, then dried in air. It is claimed that the cloth is not only made waterproof, but is left supple and sufficiently porous for air to pass through it.

Ever See Your Halo?

A London doctor announces that he can show in a scientific manner that every human being has a halo. It varies in size and distinctness according to the state of health, makes pain visible and enables the expert to distinguish between intelligent and dull individuals. This discoverer of the halo is Dr. W. J. Kilner.

BEWARE OF BLOOD-POISON

Zam-Buk is a Sure Cure

Mr. Jas. Davey, of 786 Ellice Avenue, Winnipeg, says:—"A few months since I was cured of a poisoned finger through the timely use of Zam-Buk."

"I cut a deep gash across the knuckle on the first finger of my right hand in opening a lobster can. I suffered at the time with the soreness and pain, but had no idea it would become a serious wound. However, in about two days I was greatly alarmed; as my whole hand and arm to the elbow became suddenly inflamed, and the finger was much discolored, showing signs of blood-poisoning. The pain was dreadful and I was forced to leave off my work and go home."

"The wound on the knuckle had been poisoned by dust and dirt getting into it. I then decided to try the Zam-Buk treatment, and having first bathed the cut, I applied the healing balm. It soothed the pain almost instantly, and by next day there was a great improvement."

"In a week's time, through perseverance with this wonderful preparation, a complete cure was brought about."

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, ulcers, scalp sores, abscesses, piles, ringworm, boils, varicose ulcers, running sores, cold sores, chapped hands, etc. It draws all poisonous foulness from a wound or sore and then heals. Use it too, for cuts, burns, bruises and all skin injuries. Zam-Buk Soap should be used in conjunction with the balm for washing wounds and sore places. Excellent too, for baby's bath.

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box and Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. tablet. Post free upon receipt of price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

THE PREMIER'S WIFE.

Mrs. R. L. Borden is Beloved For Her Personal Qualities.

The voice of Canada has spoken. At its bidding another figure steps forward to the helm of state, and with the coming into power of the new First Minister comes into prominence one who will play no mean part in the social life of the Dominion—that gracious and stately gentlewoman, his wife.

Mrs. Robert Laird Borden is already well known, as, like Lady Laurier, she has made it a point whenever possible to travel about with her husband on his political tours, and ever her tact and charming personality have won many friends, not only for herself, but for her husband and his party. For she has always taken the keenest interest in his work, his life-work she has made hers also, his career has been her highest aim, and to his success she has contributed in no small degree. One may well be sure that no brusque speech, no ungracious bearing on her part will put difficulties in the party's way, or alienate from her husband any wavering supporter. She has been a helpmeet in the truest sense, and in many ways. For instance, she has the faculty of seldom forgetting a face. Now, as often happens with men who are burdened by the cares of a nation, the new Prime Minister is a trifle absent-minded; and often when greeting strangers Mrs. Borden will turn to her husband with "Oh, Rob! this is Mr. So-and-So; you remember we met him at such a place."

Then, too, she has made their beautiful home in the Capital City a rallying spot for Mr. Borden's followers, where they might feel perfectly at home, where a kindly and cordial welcome was assured to stranger and citizen alike, and where opportunity was given for townspeople and "seasonal visitors" alike to become better acquainted.

As a hostess she is tactful, bright, and sympathetic, and she has that very happy faculty of blending into harmony the varied elements of an intricate social world. Indeed, if Mr. Borden, but prove as successful in blending the inharmonious elements of his hitherto unruly party, Canada will have made no mistake in placing him, for a time, in control of her destinies.

The Ottawa residence of the new Prime Minister is situated on Wurttemberg street. A large, imposing stone building, vine-clad, with huge columned porte cocheres, and spacious, well-lighted rooms, it is set well back from the street, on a velvety lawn. Before Mr. Borden purchased it, some five years ago, it had been the home of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick. Its interior bears testimony to the artistic taste and love of brightness and sunshine which are characteristic of its mistress. But both Mr. and Mrs. Borden still cherish a fond love for "Pinehurst," their delightful Halifax home, situated on an arm of Halifax harbor, and overlooking some of the finest bits of scenery to be found in or about that quaint old city.

Mrs. Borden is very enthusiastic over outdoor sports and is no mean opponent at golf, in tennis, or at bowls. She is skilled also in music and in painting. Indeed, many of the pictures that hang upon the walls of her home are products of her own cleverly-wielded brush. One of her hobbies is photography, an art in which she has attained much proficiency. Her studies are well chosen and cleverly grouped, while some of her "snaps," especially those of her husband, are particularly happy. Then she does all the work herself, from the developing to the finishing.—Toronto Star Weekly.

Men Who Won't Work.

The claim is made in many Canadian cities that there are a certain class of men out of work who don't really want to get anything to do.

The Hamilton Herald a few days ago had occasion to find what truth there is in that claim so far as the Ambitious City is concerned.

It isn't because he can't get work that a man is idle these days, said the Herald in its issue of September 13. Gore Park and City Hall corner have the usual number of the old guard on the job these half days, and the inference to be drawn from this occupation of outdoor seats in cold weather is that a man goes to such a public spot to find work. Yesterday a Herald employe was sent out to get a man to help him in unloading a lot of paper at the Herald warehouse. He went to Gore Park and the City Hall, where he offered 25 cents an hour for a whole day of easy work. There were no takers.

Those who hunk down the seats didn't even have the grace to cover their refusal to work with a kick about the money offered not being enough. One man was "waiting for a friend," another said: "I have not in my mind, I'm a machinist. Outside and beyond my own duties."

COLDS BREED CATARRH

Her Terrible Experience Shows How Peruna Should Be in Every Home to Prevent Colds.

Mrs. C. S. Sage, 1311 Woodland Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes:

"I feel it a duty to you and to others that may be afflicted like myself, to speak for Peruna. My trouble first came after a gripe a light or nine years ago, a gathering in my head and neuralgia. I suffered most all the time. My nose, ears and eyes were badly affected for the last two years. I think from your description of internal catarrh that I must have had that also. I suffered very severely."

"Nothing ever relieved me like Peruna. It keeps me from taking cold. With the exception of some deafness I am feeling perfectly cured. I am forty-six years old."

"I feel that words are inadequate to express my praise for Peruna."

No Ability to Digest Food

NERVOUS SYSTEM SO EXHAUSTED THAT VITAL ORGANS ARE FEEBLE IN ACTION

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The digestive system is a wonderful piece of machinery, but power is necessary to make it effective.

In this case the power is the nerve force contained in the body, and if the nerve force is lacking the digestive system becomes crippled and there is suffering from indigestion, nervous headaches, neuralgia pains, dizziness, weakness and discouragement.

Strength can not be regained from the food you eat so long as digestion is so imperfect, but you can be restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which contains in condensed pill form the very elements of nature which go to form new nerve force.

Overwork, worry, anxiety and excessive mental effort exhaust the nervous system at a tremendous rate, and repair must be made before some dreadful form of nervous disease sets in. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food invigorates the nerves which control the digestive fluids, sharpens the appetite, is slightly laxative, so as to encourage the action of the bowels and strengthens every organ of the body.

You can use this treatment feeling certain that every dose is doing you at least some good, and can prove it by noting your increase in weight.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ELEVATOR OWNERSHIP

SYSTEM WILL BE A FINANCIAL SUCCESS THIS YEAR

Reports from Several Points in the Province Severely Criticizing the System — Government Elevators Closed in Busy Season—General Belief That System is a Failure—Farmers' Side of Question.

Winnipeg.—Will the public-owned elevators of Manitoba be a financial success this year?

At the summarizing of the situation, as it now stands, as made by D. V. McCuaig, chairman of the Manitoba Government Elevator Commission, taken as a criterion—they will.

Again, will the public-owned elevators of Manitoba solve the marketing problem for the farmer this year? If the answer is uttered by grain growers in the districts where the car shortage is most keenly felt, be taken as a sign of the times—they most certainly won't.

The first view of the situation, that was adopted by Mr. McCuaig, was most optimistic when he discussed the question recently. The chairman of the commission affirmed that the government's elevators were being filled to capacity and that the business done to date made a very satisfactory showing. In view of the fact, however, that the generous yield of the Manitoba wheatfields this year has called into commission every available container for wheat, this is not surprising. In fact, so great has been the demand for elevator space that at some points where elevators owned by independent companies had been practically abandoned from age or lack of business, a new lease of life has been infused in the has-beens, and they have been loaded to bursting point with the teeming grain. Many petitions were received by the commission for the establishment of new elevators, but few of these could be complied with. In the first place, the appropriation for the work of the commission made by the provincial government at the close of the last session of the legislature, was $70,000.

Mr. McCuaig recently stated that in improvements and rebuilding, $150,000 had been spent by the commission to date. Four elevators had been fitted with more modern appliances for cleaning and weighing, and greater facilities.

Two elevators had been closed during the season, those at Carroll and Rivers, said Mr. McCuaig, the reason in each case being the lack of business. A recent dispatch from Treherne, however, would seem to indicate that the fling system of the commission was slightly out of gear. At this point the shortage of cars is acute, the grain market being practically blocked by their deficiency and farmers at their wits end where to put their wheat until the tension is relieved. Yet at Treherne there are two government-owned elevators—with a total capacity of one hundred thousand bushels—and empty. For some reason the commission has closed up shop in Treherne and kept closed.

Later advice bring word of other grain storage dilemmas, while the government elevators shelter nothing but the much-heralded new binning facilities. At Crystal City alone there are three such elevators taking up truckage for no apparent reason than to provide a standing asset in the balance sheets of the commission. Were these three elevators opened, the situation at Crystal City would be immediately relieved. Why the elevators should be closed up at the busiest season of the year, or, in some cases, even superannuated permanently, was not explained by Mr. McCuaig. His official knowledge in this respect did not extend beyond Carroll and Rivers, where he stated the elevators had been closed for lack of business. As no statistics regarding this year's business were available at the offices of the commission, this is not surprising. The chairman, however, pointed out that the pressure on the clerical staff, due to the great increase of business, had precluded their compilation for some time.

With regard to the detailed business of the receiving elevators, Mr. McCuaig stated that, although many applications had been received for the appointment of street buyers, the commission had not been able to accomplish much in this direction, capable buyers not being easy to obtain. He affirmed, however, that wherever the commission could appoint a buyer it had done so.

With reference to the complaints of shortages, many of which had been received during the 1910 season, the chairman of the commission admitted that there had been a slight increase in the number, but he attributed this to the great increase in business. The installation of the new binning facilities had done something towards lessening this leak and reducing its consequent loss to the commission.

Touching the competition of the independent companies, Mr. McCuaig stated that one disadvantage the government men were experiencing was the offering of track prices for street wheat, by the representatives of the millers. This manipulation was indulged in that the millers might obtain the best of the wheat for milling purposes. This competition, the government buyers could not meet, not being in the milling business.

A man I know is having trouble with his wife; but he is very honorable about it; he says he knows something "on" her, but it is so terrible that he won't tell.

ARABS FIRED ON AMBULANCES

The Italians Complain of the Turks Violating the Rules of Warfare

Washington.—The Marquis di San Giuliano, the Italian minister of war, forwarded to the Italian embassy recently a message from General Caneva relating to battles of November 6 and 7, in which the Italian general declared that there was "indisputable evidence of violation of the treaties of war" on the part of the Arabs. Gen. Caneva's message was as follows:

"Our scouts on the fields where the encounters of the 6th and 7th took place between the 93rd regiment of Italian infantry and Turks and Arabs have ascertained that acts of cruelty have been committed upon our fallen. One of the many dead was found barbarously decapitated. No doubt exists that in these encounters the Turks were present, and for this reason they are directly responsible."

"It was ascertained that Arabs directed to fire and the attacks against the ambulances and transports of the wounded, but it was still uncertain if only the Arabs were to be blamed for it or if the Turks should also have been declared outlawed for violation of war regulations. Now the doubt does not exist any more, because it has been ascertained in a most absolute way that on the battlefield of Ain Sar the Turks in command, in violation of article 3 of the last convention of the Hague, executed wounded, including woman and children."

NEED MORE MEN

A Call for Help Came Out at the Annual Synod Meeting in Saskatchewan

Yorkton, Sask.—The Presbyterian Synod of Saskatchewan convened here recently with a large attendance. Delegates from all sections of the province were present. Rev. Leash presided and in opening his speech dealt with the problem of securing more men occasioned by the rapid growth of Saskatchewan, which makes it most imperative if the church is to retain its position. Rev. F. M. Munroe, Saskatoon, preached an excellent sermon.

Rev. Stuart Acheson, of Broadview, and Rev. Jas. Fraser, of Shebo, were nominated for moderator, Rev. Fraser being elected.

On motion of Rev. Acheson the nomination was made unanimous. A vote of thanks was given the retiring moderator and the appointment of committees concluded the business of the first session.

ONE THOUSAND REBELS KILLED

That Is the Death List of Insurgents Front of Shanghai—Foreigners Are Safe at Present

Pekin.—Manchus and revolutionists are on good terms. Royal troops hold Purple Mountain city's stronghold. Besiegers awaiting supplies of ammunition from Shanghai. The revolutionists lost one thousand killed and wounded in a recent fight. The invaders, who had attacked prematurely, ran short of powder.

The rebels totalled approximately 25,000 men. Opposing them are about six thousand Mannus, strongly entrenched and well equipped. The outcome depends largely upon the loyalty of Manchus, who are disheartened because of the attitude of the government at Peking. Foreigners are safe. The women and children have left the threatened districts, and the Americans are protecting them at the legation with marines from the United States cruiser New York.

INTO VANCOUVER IN TWO YEARS

Sir William Mackenzie Promises Through Transcontinental Trains on C. N. R.

Ottawa.—"In two years through transcontinental trains of the Canadian Northern will be running into Vancouver. By December 15 of this year we expect to be able to start a local service from Port Mann to Hope. On December 15, 1913, our entire line will be completed from Edmonton to the coast. We are going to work day and night to achieve that result."

In these words, Sir William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern railway, assured Premier McBride of the rapidity with which the Canadian Northern plans are being carried out. A few hours spent in Chicago by the premier and Mr. Bower were prolific of railway callers. Besides Sir William, there were Mr. Tait, of the Grand Trunk, and L. C. Gilman, the Great Northern's able lawyer-railroader. Naturally all had something to say.

Montreal Tribute to Peacemaker

Montreal.—At a meeting of the board of control recently, a letter was read from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, chairman of the committee in charge of collecting a fund for the erection of a monument to the late King Edward VII, stating that $60,000 had been already collected and suggesting that a sum of $5,000 should be subscribed by the city. The board passed a resolution to this effect.

Will Not Increase Cabinet

Edmonton, Alta.—Premier Sifton has stated that the story that he intended making additions to the cabinet shortly was absolutely without foundation. There will be no new portfolios to fill in the immediate future, and no appointments to cabinet rank without portfolio are contemplated at the present time.

NO CAUSE TO QUARREL

NAVY EXPENDITURE WILL BE CURTAILED

Important Announcement Is Made by Winston Churchill—Premier Asquith Speaks of Morocco—Britain Has No Intention of Interfering in the Affairs of China.—New Lord Mayor of London Is Elected.

London.—A new Lord Mayor of London, Sir Thomas Boor Crosey, M.D., has been inducted into office, and at the Lord Mayor's banquet Premier Asquith made his fourth successive speech in honor of such an occasion.

The prime minister gave a clear exposition of Great Britain's foreign policy. The Morocco agreement was the topic and furnished a special opportunity, the premier's remarks coming opportunely as a reply to the speech of the imperial German chancellor in the Reichstag.

The settlement of the questions involved, he said, "it is a relief to Europe, for it removes, perhaps the greatest obstacles to the smooth working of European diplomacy. Our own gratification at the result is none the less profound and sincere, because we have been suspected in irresponsible quarters of looking coldly upon the negotiations and even of a disposition to hamper their success. Nothing can be further from the truth. There is no secret about it either. Where British interests are involved it is our business to safeguard them. Where we have established friendships and understandings we seek to maintain them loyally and intact. But friendships are not exclusive or jealous. We have no cause to quarrel with any nation, nor with such a history and such an empire as our own, have we any disposition to curtail or fetter the natural and legitimate aspirations of others."

Mr. Asquith referring to China said that the British government had no desire and no disposition to interfere in the internal affairs of that country. The government would restrict its cause to protect its subjects.

He emphasized Great Britain's neutrality in the Turkish-Italian war, adding that the government desired to co-operate with the powers on the question of mediation, which was different from intervention, but was useless to make proposals which were known to be unacceptable to either belligerent power.

Winston Churchill, in his first speech for the navy, as first lord of the admiralty, proposed reduction of expenditure without compromising the national security. It would be affection, he said, to pretend that the sudden and rapid growth of the German navy was not the main factor in Great Britain's vast expenditure, but the limit of German expansion, Mr. Churchill said, would be reached.

Building will be reduced one-half by the operation of the naval law, he added. The mere observance of that law without increase would make the world breathe more freely, and all nations enter upon more trustful and more genial climate of opinion.

On the other hand, if the vast program of the powers should be swollen, their new expansions, Great Britain of all the nations would best be able to bear the strain and would be last to fail at the call of duty."

A MILD GREEN SPOT IN YUKON

Interesting Statement About Conditions in the North by One Who Has Just Returned

Ottawa.—R. A. Elliott, of Woodstock, was one of the Ottawa party that recently got back from summer work on the Alaskan boundary survey. He left Ottawa in April, and it took the party exactly two months to get to the waterway built by the Guggenbuhlers at a cost of $9,000,000, where the survey was to start.

During the two months of actual work done by the party the triangulation of lines fixing the boundary between Alaska and Canada was cut and produced to within a few miles of the Arctic ocean, and several disputed points were finally adjusted.

In speaking of his experience, Mr. Elliott told of a point in the vicinity of the Porcupine river where the climate was so much milder than the surrounding country that a large number of horses were wintered outside, a very unusual thing for the far north.

Good Crops in Arctic Circle

Ottawa.—Samples of oats and peas which came to maturity two hundred miles north of Battleford have been received at the forestry branch here. In view of the fact that grain did not mature in the sections of the prairie provinces this season owing to cold weather, the samples are regarded as a remarkable illustration of the productive capacity of the far north even in backward seasons.

King George V. Starts for India

London.—All preparations having been completed King George and Queen Mary have started in state for a visit to India for the Coronation Derby. This being the first time the Emperor and the Empress have visited India, it will be made the occasion for the displays of unprecedented magnificence.

Banquet to Mr. Rogers

Ottawa.—A banquet is to be tendered to Hon. Robt. Rogers about the first of December by employees of the interior and Indian affairs departments.

WILL BE RIGHT OFF THE MAP

Cut-Off From Medicine Hat to Kipp Will Change Face of Western Canada

Right off the map with Lethbridge! All the business in future to be done by Medicine Hat.

The Medicine Hat News uses the largest type in the place to inform its readers that "Calgary and Lethbridge are Sidetracked."

Here is part of what The News says:

Lethbridge, as well as Calgary, seems pleased to publish this pretty insinuation against Medicine Hat in an endeavor to check, if possible, our industrial development to their own advantage. For the information of these two cities, The News might give a little information which should have the effect of concentrating their attention on their own home affairs. More than a single blue print has been filed with the government, and one in particular, to which the attention of Lethbridge and Calgary is called, is that which provides for a cut-off between Medicine Hat and Kipp, on the Crow's Nest division. The new route will reduce the present mileage to the coast from Medicine Hat by over 200 hundred miles, and also has the advantage of possessing much easier gradients. Upon the completion of this cut-off, Lethbridge will not be located on even the main line of the Crow's Nest division, and through traffic on the main trunk line will go via Calgary no more, but will take advantage of the shorter mileage and easier grades by way of Medicine Hat and Kipp.

It needs no argument to show that the change will convert this city into the great distributing point for the west, and this fact, when taken into consideration with our cheap power, should speedily enable us to outdistance any possible rivals for supremacy in Southern Alberta."

MAYOR OF ROME TOUCHED WIRE

Received a Shock Which for the Time Was Feared Would Be Fatal, But It Proved Otherwise

Turin.—Signor Nathan, the mayor of Rome, while paying a visit of inspection to the great hydro-electric plant recently erected by the municipality of Turin at Chiomonte, in the valley of Susa, inadvertently touched a discharger and was struck to the ground by the violence of the shock. Luckily his hand was partly gloved, otherwise the consequences might have been fatal.

Signor Nathan was assisted out by members of the Rome town council accompanying him. Medical aid was quickly on the spot and the burns on the left arm were bandaged.

The mayor sufficiently recovered to put in an appearance subsequently at a banquet. Councillor Giovana, who was standing close to Signor Nathan at the moment of the shock, was slightly burned on the foot.

TEACHING OTTAWA SOCIETY

Great Preparations When the Ottawa People Meet a Real Duke as Governor-General

Ottawa.—So great is the demand for seats in the senate galleries for ceremonies in connection with the opening of parliament that notices have already been posted to the effect that applications made from now on cannot be considered. The double attraction of a Duke as governor-general has increased the interest in the ceremonies.

First drawing room to be held on the eve of Saturday, Nov. 18 promises to be the largest ever held in Ottawa. Ottawa society is making great preparations for the event and a teacher of deportment from Montreal announces in blazing advertising type in the city newspapers that she will be in Ottawa in the course of the next few days to instruct Ottawa people how to act when they are presented to royalty.

Hundred and Two, But She Will Vote

Santa Rosa, Cal.—Mrs. Electa Kennedy, of Healdsburg, the oldest member of the Order of the Eastern Star in the world and the oldest woman belonging to any fraternal organization, is also to become the oldest woman voter. She is now 102 years of age. She recently attended a reception tendered the grand matron of the Eastern Star and said a few words at the banquet given by Sotoyome Chapter of Healdsburg, of which she is a member. Friends have asked her to register, and she has consented.

Empress in Collision

London.—The Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Britain collided off Chicken Rocks, Isle of Man, with a coasting steamer. The latter was badly damaged, but the Empress only slightly. The latter stood by the conster and then proceeded to Liverpool. She sailed from Quebec, November 3. The passengers were breakfasting when the collision occurred, and felt the impact, but there was no confusion. A few of the liner's plates are slightly buckled.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VIII.—FOURTH QUARTER, FOR NOV. 19, 1911.

Text of the Lesson, Ez. viii, 21-32. Memory Verses, 21-23—Golden Text, Ez. viii, 22—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In our two previous lessons in the book of Ezra we saw nearly 50,000 returning to Jerusalem by permission of Cyrus, the king, under the leadership of Zerubbabel and Joshua, and we saw the temple finished by the encouraging words of Hagar and Zachariah. Now we see Ezra, a priest in the direct line from Aaron and also a scribe of the law of God (vii, 5, 12), returning with the permission and good will of Artaxerxes, king of Persia, and with him over 1,700 of the people. The decree of the king made nothing compulsory in the matter of returning, but gave full permission to all who were minded of their own free will to go up with Ezra (vii, 13). It is thought that the story of the book of Esther fits in between Ez. vi and vii and the statement in Est. i, 7, 8, that there was royal wine in abundance (or wine of the kingdom—margin), according to the state of the king, but that every one did according to his own pleasure in the matter of drinking gives an idea of perfect freedom. Note the abundant bestowment and freedom of action granted to Ezra by the king. "Whatsoever shall seem good to thee, * * * that do after the will of your God. And whatsoever more shall be needed * * * bestow it out of the king's treasure house" (Ez. vii, 18, 20, 23). The object of all this bounty was the house of God which was at Jerusalem (Ez. vii, 15, 16, 17, 19, 23, 27). The man of God was Ezra, who had prepared his heart to seek the law of the Lord and to do it and to teach it and in whose hand was the wisdom of God (Ez. vii, 10, 25). The great cause back of all others was "the good hand of the Lord God upon him" (Ez. vii, 6, 9, 28; viii, 18, 22, 31), by which the king granted him all his request, by which also he was made strong, by which the right men were brought to him, and, as we shall see in this lesson, by which he was brought safely to Jerusalem without an armed escort. Compare the hand of the Lord upon the prophet Ezekiel in Ezek. i, 3; iii, 14, 22; viii, 1; viii, 1; xxxiii, 22; xxxviii, 22; xxxviii, 1; xl, 1; just seven times. If we are willing to be made strong only for Himself, that people may know His as the doer of all that is done in and through us, we may expect His hand upon us for the sake of the man of His right hand (Ps. lxxx, 17; cix, 27). Because Ezra had said to the king, "The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek Him," he was ashamed to ask for a band of soldiers and horsemen to protect them against the enemy, so they fasted and prayed and afflicted themselves before God, and He was entreated of them (Ez. vii, 21-23). When Nehemiah went to Jerusalem he accepted an escort of captains of the army and horsemen, and it is written that the hand of God was upon him also (Neh. ii, 8, 9). Elijah was as truly cared for by God in the home of the desolate woman at Sarepta, where she ministered to him, as when cared for by the ministry of birds at Cherith. With a mind stayed upon Jehovah and a whole heart for Him, there is always perfect freedom to do as occasion serve, in reliance upon Him (1 Sam. x, 7). The silver and the gold and the vessels, worth over two and a half million dollars, were placed under the care of twelve priests, with ten men to assist them, with instructions to watch and keep and deliver safely to the chiefs at Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord (verses 24-30). According to verse 28, both vessels and people were specially holy unto the Lord. "Ye are holy unto the Lord; the vessels are holy also, and the silver and the gold are a free will offering unto the Lord of your fathers." When the kingdom comes everything shall be "holiness unto the Lord" (Zach. xiv, 20, 21). It should be so now, with all that the believer is and has, according to 1 Pet. i, 15; ii, 9, for we are in a special sense set apart for Himself (Ps. iv, 3). With more care than these men watched over these treasures. He is ever watching over His people, whom He calls His peculiar treasure (Ex. xix, 5; Deut. vii, 6; Tit. ii, 14; R.V.), and He will land all His goods safely at their destination, for no power can pluck out of His hand. In our lesson story everything was delivered, by number and by weight (verse 34), and He who said, "Those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost" (John xvii, 12), is the same unchangeable one who cannot lose anything that is truly His. Ezra's journey occupied four months, and all the way they were kept and delivered from the hand of the enemy, and of such lay in wait by the way (vii, 9; vii, 31). When Paul was nearing the end of his sojourn in a mortal body he said, "I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion, and the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work and will preserve me unto His heavenly kingdom" (II Tim. iv, 17, 18). Ezra was ashamed to ask for an escort of soldiers because it looked to him like a lack of trust in the Lord. It would do us all good to get ashamed of our "little faith," but we also need to get ashamed, as Ezra did, of conformity to this present age and its ways (ix, 6).

FAMOUS PEOPLE

BY FANNIE M. LOTHROP

PROFESSOR GOLDWIN SMITH

The Greatest Living Master of Style

In "The Grange," a delightful, plain, brick house, half-concealed by the net-work of vines that cover it, with a wide sweep of lawn and grounds filled with old trees—a whole city block in the heart of Toronto, hedged in by high walls—lives Canada's venerable author, Goldwin Smith.

This greatest living master of style in the English language, as he has been called, has had a busy life in his eighty-one years, yet his own words prove it has been a serene and peaceful one. "According to the Psalmist," he says, "If by reason of strength our years be fourscore, yet is their strength labor and sorrow," but I must say that while I have found mine full of the first, they have been free from the second.

Born in Reading, England, he was educated at Eton and Oxford, graduating in 1845; two years later was elected a Fellow of University College, where he acted as tutor for some time, and though called to the bar, he never practiced. He was prominent in the two commissions appointed to examine into the condition of Oxford University which led to a number of salutary reforms. In 1858 he was made Regius Professor of Modern History at Oxford, a post he held for eight years. During the Civil War in the United States he was a valiant champion of the Northern cause, and on his lecture tour in that country in 1864 he met everywhere enthusiastic and flattering receptions and received the degree of LL.D. from Brown University.

In November, 1868, having resigned his chair at Oxford, he again visited the United States and accepted the professorship of history at the newly-founded Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., where he lived for three years. On his retirement he went to Canada, being still Professor Emeritus of Cornell, where he was extremely popular with the students, who affectionately referred to him as "Goldie."

In Canada he soon found recognition and served in a number of positions that gave him opportunity to render invaluable service to the cause of education and letters, and on all questions of vital political interest his voice and his pen were ever ready. A long list of books on history, religion, national politics, philosophy and biography he has to his credit, yet a far greater bulk of material remains in his constant contributions to the newspapers and periodicals of his day. A rare scholar, a master of style, a great thinker, a fearless iconoclast, an able champion a tireless worker, Goldwin Smith has been a mighty influence for good.

A Bargain Indeed

It would be impossible to figure what a benefit The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has been to the West. It affords the greatest amount of genuine good reading for every member of the family and its benefits to the farming community in its agricultural pages are worth hundreds of thousands of dollars every year. It is not merely a theoretical paper. It is a practical farm paper in every respect and there is no farmer in Canada who cannot profit by reading it. Two cents a week, one dollar a year—the price of one bushel of wheat for a whole year's subscription to that great paper, not to speak of the beautiful premium picture "Home Again" size 22 x 29 inches, ready for framing. It makes one wonder if the publishers pay their paper bills. Any home in this western country that does not receive the Family Herald and Weekly Star for 1912 will miss a bargain indeed.

For 1.85 paid to this office you can get The Bowden News to end of next year, the Herald for a full year and this magnificent picture thrown in.

Rocky Mountain Reserve

Forestry upon the Eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains was only begun by the setting aside of 13,000,000 acres as a permanent public forest. In order that this area may be protected from fire may be made accessible to lumbermen, settlers, ranchers and all others who wish to use it add in order that it may be so developed that every acre be continually producing valuable timber it is necessary that a great deal of improvement work be undertaken. This work, both the construction of roads, trails, fireguards and telephone lines and the handling of timber sales will be conducted by the Dominion Forestry Branch.

In order that the work carried out by the Forestry Branch on the Eastern slope of the Rockies may not be of an experimental value but may conform with the best experience of the foresters of the continent the Director of forestry is sending one of the officers of the Forestry Branch, together with Mr. Alberta Helmer, Chief Forest Ranger in charge of work on the Rocky Mountains, to inspect and study the work conducted during the past few years on the National Forests in Montana. The United States Forest Service now has employed a trained staff of over 2,000 men and spends nearly 5,000,000 annually in building trails, telephone lines and forest rangers' houses on the National Forests and in making studies of the best way to handle logging operations so as to improve and perpetuate the forest without interfering with the settlers and lumbermen. Conditions in Montana has proven highly satisfactory to the ranchers, farmers, miners and lumbermen and yet the forests have been so managed as to lessen the fire danger and insure the future production of timber on all areas cut over. Canadian officials are very fortunate to be in a position to benefit by the practice in the United States.

A Warm Bathroom

PERFECTION

SMOKELESS
OIL HEATER

Every mother should be careful that the children take their baths in a warm room. The chill of a cold room is dangerous after coming out of the hot water.

A Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater brings bathroom or bedroom to just the degree of warmth you want in five or ten minutes. All you have to do is to touch a match.

The Perfection Heater burns nine hours on one filling and is always ready for use. You can move it anywhere it is needed. There is no waste of fuel and heat warming unoccupied rooms. Just the heat you want, when and where you want it.

The Perfection is fitted with an automatic-locking flame spreader that prevents the wick being turned high enough to smoke and is easy to remove and drop back when cleaning.

Drums finished either in turquoise-blue enamel or plain steel; light and ornamental, yet strong and durable—suitable for any room in any house.

Bessie's Little Bear

An amusing incident of a child's misconception of the words of a popular hymn occurred recently at a Sunday school in Somersetshire. The teacher, turning to the girl at the head of the class—to whom was accorded the privilege of choosing the hymn to be sung before closing the school—asked, "What hymn would you like, Bessie?" "Please, sir," replied the girl, "the hymn about the little she bear." "The little she bear?" was the answer. "The hymn that says, 'Can a mother's tender care cease towards the child she bear?'"

NEURALGIA CURED

THIS PAINFUL TROUBLE IS DUE TO POVERTY OF THE BLOOD

Neuralgia is one of the most painful maladies that afflicts humanity. The trouble is usually seated in the face and head, following the course of some nerve, but attacks other parts of the system as well. It is characterized by acute pains, sometimes steady, at other spasmodic and darting, headaches and a feeling as though the forehead was a band of iron. Medical authorities agree that neuralgia is a cry of the nerves for better food, and that if the blood is purified and enriched the trouble will disappear. This is the reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure even the most severe cases of neuralgia. They actually make new, rich blood which feeds the tired, starved nerves and thus cure the trouble, at the same time leaving the sufferer in better health in every way than was formerly enjoyed. In proof we give the case of Mr. G. Brooks, of Aurora, Ont., who says: "About two years ago, while working in Collingwood, I was attacked with neuralgia, which became so bad that I was frequently unable to go to work. The pain would start over my right eye and would then spread to the whole face, and caused me the greatest agony. I was under the care of a good doctor, but his treatment did no more than give me temporary relief, and I was therefore an almost constant sufferer. Acting on the advice of my wife I finally decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and I am profoundly thankful that I did so, as in the course of a few weeks I began to improve, and after a further use of the Pills, the trouble disappeared and I have not since had any trace of it. I may also add that while taking the Pills my weight increased nine pounds, which shows that the Pills are a body builder as well as a nerve restorer."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

After a country-town man has been to New York, there is a difference; he is little lofter, and not so well satisfied with his own town as formerly.

Through indiscretion in eating green fruit in summer many children become subject to cholera morbus caused by irritating acids that act violently on the lining of the intestines. Pains and dangerous purgings ensue and the delicate system of the child suffers under the strain. In such cases the safest and surest medicine is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It will check the inflammation and save the child's life.

There are two things people are quick to notice: when a man wears a wig, and when a woman paints her cheeks.

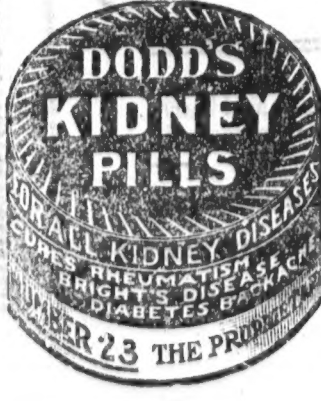

A Simple and Cheap Medicine.—A simple, cheap and effective medicine is something to be desired. There is no medicine so effective a regulator of the digestive system as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple, they are cheap, they can be got anywhere, and their beneficial action will prove their recommendation. They are the medicine of the poor man and those who wish to escape doctors' bills will do well in giving them a trial.

"I don't see anything that man has ever done that warrants his official importance," said the man who finds fault. "No," said Senator Sorghum. "Some of us get on not by what we have done, but by what we are willing to promise not to do."—Washington Star.

C. P. R. $1,000 Wheat Prize

The prize of $1,000 in gold offered by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the best 100 pounds of hard red wheat, grown in America and shown at the land show at New York, in November, aroused great interest among the Western Canadian farmers. The show was the biggest of its kind yet attempted and was supported by all the leading land and irrigation interests in America. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's prize of $1,000 is not the only one of that magnitude that was offered, but it is relatively the most important as whereas the American prize givers have been careful to limit the competitors to United States farmers, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy showed his firm confidence in Canadian products by throwing the contest for his prize open to all farmers of the continent of America. From the stand taken by United States leading donors of prizes, it is very evident that they are afraid that the Canadian farmer might capture all the prizes which would be a severe blow to the United States agriculturalists nearly all the other competitions were limited to the United States farmers, Canadian farmers being barred. Evidently this is a free admission that Canadian farm products are superior to those of the United States and that the Americans are afraid to meet the Canadian farmers in open competition.

Besides the $1,000 prize offered by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Canada will gain further prominence through the C. P. R.'s exhibit. This exhibit was of an unusually novel and interesting nature and made New Yorkers "sit up and take notice." First of all there was a picture of a complete homestead done entirely in seeds and grasses. Mr. J. P. Nash, who has been at the C. P. R.'s Demonstration Farm at Strathmore, Alta., preparing the exhibit does with seeds and grasses what other artists do with brush and canvas. The homestead is an exquisite piece of work, and it could hardly be believed that a picture, which at a distance of ten feet cannot be distinguished from an oil painting, could be constructed from the materials used. A large mat into which many native grasses have been woven, is another feature which attracted considerable attention. A large elk was shown. The covering of seeds and grasses was woven for the stucco figure of this elk which had real antlers. The eyes of elk were illuminated from the inside, and the whole figure is a triumph of ingenuity. The other features of the exhibit were equally interesting and novel.

He is an active candidate who runs ahead of his ticket.

For Sprains and Bruises.—There is nothing better for sprains and contusions than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It will reduce the swelling that follows a sprain. Will cool the inflamed flesh and draw the pain as if by magic. It will take the ache out of a bruise and prevent the flesh from discoloring. It seems as if there was magic in it, so speedily does the injury disappear under treatment.

Some people will say your real diamonds are glass.

Away with Depression and Melancholy.—These two evils are the accompaniment of a disordered stomach and torpid liver and mean wretchedness to all whom they visit. The surest and speediest way to combat them is with Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which will restore the healthful action of the stomach and bring relief. They have proved their usefulness in thousands of cases and will continue to give relief to the suffering who are wise enough to use them.

With a view to possible guidance of Bridget's mind toward a quieter summer hat than the one which she had worn the season before, Mrs. Lee spoke of some violets she had seen in a milliner's window.

"You see these violets that have been sent to me, Bridget?" said the mistress. They are just like those in the milliner's window, except these are a little bit larger.

"I saw them the day before yesterday," said Bridget, "and there is the very moral of 'em. Ain't it wonderful, ma'am how natural the Lord can make things?"

The hog pays a much greater profit from a lot of rough feed consumed than could be obtained if this feed were sold off the farm; and, besides, increasing the cash profits, returns valuable fertilizer to the soil.

"By the way, what's causing the delay in the arrival of the Christmas magazines?" asks the Birmingham News. They are probably too busy with their forthcoming July number.—Chattanooga Times.

OLD LADY ALMOST CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

A Remarkable and Convincing Statement of the Success of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the Treatment of the Pain, Itching and Burning of Eczema

"I, the undersigned, cannot give enough praise to the Cuticura Remedies. I had been doctoring for at least a year for eczema on my foot. I had tried doctor after doctor all to no avail. When a young girl I sprained my ankle three different times, paying little or no attention to it, when five years ago a small spot showed upon my left ankle, I was worried and sent for a doctor. He said it was eczema. He drew a small bone from the ankle about the size of a match and about an inch long. The small hole grew to about the size of an apple, and the eczema spread to the knee. The doctors never could heal the hole in the ankle. The whole foot ran water all the time.

"My husband and my sons were up night and day wheeling me from one room to another in the hope of giving me some relief. I would sit for hours at a time in front of the fireplace hoping for daybreak. The pain was so intense I was almost crazy, in fact, I would lose my reason for hours at a time. One day a friend of mine dropped in to see me. No more had she glanced at my foot than she exclaimed, 'Mrs. Finnegan, why in the world don't you try the Cuticura Remedies?' Being disgusted with the doctors and their medicines, and not being able to sleep at all, I decided to give the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment a trial. After using them three days that night I slept as sound as a silver dollar for eight long hours. I awoke in the morning with but very little pain. In fact, I thought I was in heaven. After using the Cuticura Remedies for three months I was perfectly restored to health, thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I will be sixty-four years of age my next birthday, hale and hearty at present." (Signed) Mrs. Julia Finnegan, 2234 Herbert St., St. Louis, Mo., Mar. 7, 11.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and British Columbia may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2500 acres will be leased to one applicant.
 Application for a lease must be made to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.
 In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections and in unsurveyed territory the track applied for shall be staked out.
 Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.
 The person operating the mines shall furnish the Agent with returns monthly, accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty hereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.
 The lease will include the coal mining rights only but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10,000 an acre.
 The Minister may reserve for an applicant the coal mining rights under 2,500 acres of contiguous lands for two years. Application for such right must be made to the Agent. Fee $100.00. An expenditure at the rate of $1 an acre per annum, as prospecting by recognized methods, must be incurred.
 For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.
 Duties.—Six months residence upon and cultivation of land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 90 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.
 In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.
 Duties.—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn home homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.
 A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $50.00.

Olds News

Mr and Mrs T F. Foster are in from the Hand Hills.
 Mr I Litsee's family arrived from Iowa Saturday.
 Mrs Anwayson arrived from New York Wednesday.
 Born—to Mr and Mrs Harvey Walrod a daughter, Nov. 21st.
 Mrs P P Johnson and family passed through Olds Tuesday. They will make Calgary their future home.

It is said that a sum of money was lifted last Sunday when the owner was not looking. Olds is getting more like a big city every day.

John Mead our local constable was the successful capturer of Oakes the party that got away from the R.N.W.M.P. east of Innisfail last week.

Walter Eddelson who was an Olds for some time was in Olds Monday Mr Eddelson is very enthusiastic over the Hand Hills dis he has been there two and a half years has 200 acres under cultivation he reports crops generally of the best.

This week the Bowden Mercantile Co are busy moving their stock of goods from their present stand to the store lately occupied by Mr Geo Lancaster and his harness business. This building has been entirely remodelled and its interior now presents a neat and attractive appearance.

Our New Crop of Dried Fruits Has Just Arrived

Why for ages have people eaten apple sauce with Roast Goose? Simply because the acids in the fruit assist in digesting the fat, and a hint in this kind of food. This is a property of all fruits. Many have the mistaken idea that fruits are taken more for the agreeable taste than for the benefit of the system. Such is not the case. It is itself a food a full and complete nutriment for the body. It is of essential value in helping other foods to be digested. Dried fruits are both curative and nutritive.
